Ball Starts Rolling For 99 Sale Oct. 9; Advertising Oct. 4

The ball has started rolling toward a sure strike in Antioch's first 99 sale scheduled for Oct. 9.

Members of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce are almost 100 percent as participants of the plan by which on one week from next Tuesday they will present the most attractive sale of merchandise ever offered in the area.

"All we are hoping for is good weather in which people of the Antioch trading area can get to town," said A. Harold Olsen, chairman of the event.

While the extent of the sale will not be announced until Thursday, October 4, that day will set off the bomb that will shower Northern Lake County with surprise bargains.

"It is remarkable the number of merchants who are putting out items at cost," said Olsen.

Oct. 4 will see the distribution of insert advertising in the Antioch News, 10,000 special direct mail papers printed by the Antioch News and distributed by the Chamber of Commerce free to all boxholders and through other media.

"The people will have over the week-end to select their wants," Olsen commented.

Salem Central Mauls Harvard, Ill., 31 to 0; Undeclared in 10 Games

Salem Central with a surprising display of offensive power trounced Harvard, Ill. there last Friday 31 to 0.

The victory came in the third quarter after the two teams played scoreless ball throughout the entire first half. Then the Falcons broke loose for her first touchdown on Dick Weber's 56-yard run. Two blocked punts by the Falcons and fumbles by Harvard gave Salem Central 25 points before the quarter ended. Central's last quarter TD came on a 10-yard run by Bob Schroeder which wound up a march of 62 yards.

Salem Central had a total of 249 yards from rushing to Harvard's 74, and 81 yards from passing to the Hornet's 27. Weber led the Falcon ball carrying with 124 yards.

The Falcons have gone undefeated in ten games, eight victories having been chalked up last year. They had a tough time, however, in winning week before last from Union Grove. The score was 13 to 6.

However, the playing at Harvard Friday gave Coach Cliff Peterson confidence that his squad can again win the conference title.

Salem Central will take on her toughest opponent when she meets Cedarburg on her home field at 3 p. m. CST tomorrow. The Falcons defeated Cedarburg for the Braveland conference championship last year and it is believed that once this obstacle is past there should be clear sailing for another championship.

Coach Peterson is reminding his men that this game will not be easy. Cedarburg last week defeated St. Johns of Milwaukee 21 to 7.

Ronnie Nelson, whose punting last week averaged 50 yards is expected to be a big factor in leading the Falcons to victory.

Sequoits Bid Farewell To Glenbrook in Loss; Play Bears Saturday

Sophs Tie Spartan Sophs 13-13 in Prelim; Frosh Tie Grayslake 6-6

After bidding a sad farewell to the Glenbrook Spartans who overpowered them here Saturday night 35 to 12, the Antioch Sequoits will tackle a school nearer their own size Saturday afternoon when they play the Ela-Vernon Bears at 2:30 p. m. at Lake Zurich.

The Frosh-Soph game will start at noon.

Glenbrook, now undefeated in 20 games, had too much reserve power, and although the Sequoits held them scoreless in the first quarter, lack of depth especially in the center of the line, gave opportunity for the visitors to batter through in the final quarters for large gains and consequent scores.

Next year the Spartans will participate in another conference with larger schools.

The Antioch boys played good ball during the first half and was the first to score in the second quarter. Dick Srch smashed off tackle for nine yards and a touchdown after quarterback Earl Deppe passed to Roger Plechaty for a 38-yard gain. The try for goal was missed.

The Spartans came back strong and Howie Rosley sliced off tackle for nine yards and a touchdown. David Coulter kicked the first of his five conversions and Glenbrook led at the half 7 to 6.

In the second half, Glenbrook took command with Tom Brown scoring twice on runs, Gordy Lind on a 16-yard jaunt, and Don Nichols taking a 20-yard pass from Dick Rinella.

The Sequoits were able to score again in the final quarter.

Coach Kessenich's undermanned squad featured the play of Srch and Lonnie Christensen in the backfield and Jerry Huml at end. Srch carried the ball nine times for 58 yards and Deppe six times for 39 yards as Antioch's principal ground gainers.

The power of the visitors was shown in the fact that they gained WILMOT—A new veterans class is being organized at Wilmot High School under the supervision of M. M. Schnurr, principal.

The class will begin Oct. 1, and any veteran who is interested in enrolling is advised to contact Principal Schnurr immediately, leaving their name and address. The instructor will then call on him.

In order for the veteran to be eligible for enrollment, he must be actively farming on a full-time basis as owner, cash renter or operating on a share basis, according to John C. Van Scholten, the school's veteran trainer.

The veteran must have been in the service since World War II and have an honorable discharge. Applicants will be taken on a first come first served basis as the class is limited to 20 members.

Three Large Barns On Mill Creek Farm Destroyed by Fire

Contents Were Hay, Straw, and Grain—Loss Set at $21,000

Three barns and a milk house were destroyed by fire on the Mill Creek farm of Glen Traer on Rte. 45 a mile south of Rte. 173 Saturday evening.

While it would have cost approximately $125,000 to replace the buildings and contents, the actual value of the buildings was listed to Fire Chief Edgar Simonsen at $21,000, with insurance placed at $1,000.

Cause of the blaze is not known for no one was around the farm at the time.

The alarm was said to have been turned in by Albert Pedersen at the Pedersen Bros. Implement store on Rte. 173, after he saw flames bursting out the top of one of the buildings. That building was destroyed and the adjoining cow barn and horse barn were ready to burst into flames when the Antioch fire department arrived.

The fire was too hot to get close enough to save a milk shed and the firemen turned their attention to saving a tool shed, corn crib, hog house and chicken house. There was but a truck's width between the cow barn and the tool shed which the Antioch firemen saved.

Miles Sherin, manager of the farm was on another of the Mill Creek farms when the fire occurred. He said that the cow barn was large enough for 50 animals but that the herd was on another farm and the building was unused. The same was true for the horse barn, but a third barn where the fire started had 55 tons of hay, some straw, 100 bushels of oats, and 30 or 40 bushels of seed wheat.

The farm where the fire occurred has been used for grain raising only. The buildings were a quarter of a mile back from Rte. 45. A residence there is rented by an employee of Pedersen Bros.

The fire could be seen for miles and attracted a large crowd. Sheriff's police directed traffic on the heavily traveled highway for two hours.

Antioch Firemen Will Participate in Navy's Fire Fighting Project

Antioch firemen will go to Great Lakes Saturday to participate in a fire fighting procedure during which the remains of an abandoned ice house will be burned.

The building was first set afire last weekend in the study of fire fighting techniques and nearly got beyond control. This weekend it will be permitted to burn completely, when the drill is over.

Chief Edgar Simonsen, Charles Mapleshorpe, Vern Barnstable and Earl Pape attended the Lake County Firemen's Assn. meeting Monday evening at Lake Villa at which Chief Leroy A. Ellis of Great Lakes and Harry Wolf of the Western Actuarial Bureau discussed the technique used in fighting the blaze, and the methods as applied to the surprise elements.

Wilmot Beats East Troy; Will Play Whitewater There Friday Afternoon

The Wilmot Panthers will travel to Whitewater City tomorrow afternoon to take on the undefeated team from that school after having run rough shod over East Troy Friday night to the tune of 41 to 13.

The Panther first string backfield ripped off 346 yards rushing and 136 yards passing for a total of 482 yards in contrast to East Troy's 199.

Wilmot led 20 to 0 at the end of the half. It wasn't until in the third quarter when with the score 27 to 0 that Coach Frank Buccell sent in his reserves and East Troy made her first touchdown. The same thing occurred in the fourth quarter after the regulars had pushed the score up to 41.

On this type of play Wilmot appeared to be well on the way to another conference title. Whitewater City won last week from Mukwonago 19 to 7, and will be a little tougher to handle than East Troy.

Civic League Demands Lake County Board Clarify Expenditures

If Town Collectors Abolished What's to Be Done With $500,000 Profit

The Lake County Civic league has published an open letter to the Lake County Board of Supervisors calling upon that body to state what it plans to do with the $500,000 the county would receive if the office of town collector is abolished.

"We are taking this public means of inquiry since we feel that the response to these questions should be matters of public record before the people vote on the controversial question this November," the letter signed by Bruce R. Trester, executive secretary, said in conclusion.

The main body of the letter is as follows:

Gentlemen:
"In placing before the voters of Lake County the question of abolishing the Township Tax Collectors you have raised some serious questions of county financing that we feel have not yet been answered.

"As you know, the County Collector's office will gain almost $500,000 (based on the 1955 township collection, had the county collected all taxes) in fee earnings which will become a new revenue to the county government.

"All the taxing bodies in Lake County (schools, sanitary districts, cities, villages, townships, etc.) would lose 1 percent of their revenue, amounting to approximately $158,000. The 18 township funds previously benefitting by the excess fee earnings would lose approximately $242,000.

"Since most of the half-million dollars of new county revenues would come from increased taxes to be levied by the townships and other taxing bodies, we feel the taxpayers have a right to know what this money will be used for

Lindenhurst Estates Votes on Incorporation At Poll on Saturday

A large portion of Lindenhurst Estates voters will go to the poll Saturday to decide whether or not they wish to become an incorporated village.

The subdivision, less than three years old, and with 600 residents, will decide whether incorporation will be the way it will resume responsibility as the subdividers N. H. Engle and Sons turn over the responsibility of maintenance of roads and other improvements.

Voting will be from 6 a. m. until 5 p. m. at the N. H. Engle and Sons' office on the south side of Grand Ave. The proposed incorporation takes in all but the extreme west part of the subdivision north of Grand Ave., and that portion south of Grand Ave., at the extreme north edge of Sand Lake.

A poll of the community more than a month ago showed that the voters favored incorporation, but much opposition has arisen since then and the voting may be close.

Should Lindenhurst become incorporated, then Venetian Village to the south which failed in an attempt to incorporate several years ago must annex to Lindenhurst or Lake Villa if it wants incorporation.

"Trojan Horse"

A "Trojan Horse" is being offered Illinois voters at the November 6th general election.

That is the description given the proposed Revenue Amendment to the Illinois Constitution by the civic groups opposing the amendment which will be submitted to voters on a Blue Ballot.

The Trojan wooden horse, according to the tale, was wheeled into the encampment of the Trojans as a gift from the Greeks. Although the horse was presented in an atmosphere of trust and friendship, the Trojans found they had been deceived when heavily armed Greeks poured out of the wooden monster and won a great victory in the surprise attack.

The proposed Revenue Amendment is said by some to be the solution to Illinois' revenue problems, but the fact this amendment gives virtually unlimited power to the Legislature to levy virtually any kind of tax that it desires involves many possible hidden threats to taxpayers.

An ungraduated income tax or payroll tax is one, according to the Taxpayers Information Council. Discrimination and favoritism in the classification of personal property by the Legislative power to tax real estate by any method it wants—instead of by valuation as is now required—poses another threat to taxpayers.

Because the proposed amendment neither reduces taxes nor increases them itself, the voter may be easily deceived by the proposal which does have the support of political leaders who apparently want more revenue and more power. However, the proposed amendment does provide the framework for all state and local taxation in Illinois. Therefore, its importance is great and its possibilities innumerable, according to the experts.

Ad Infinitum — Ad Nauseum

The advocates of socialized electric development have a number of favorite catch words and phrases, which are being repeated ad infinitum in this political year. For instance, when a taxpaying independent power company is allowed to develop the power potential of a river, it is charged that this is a "give-away" of priceless public possession, and amounts to a steal of resources which belong to all the people.

One of Oregon's leading newspapers, the Salem

Statesman, which is published by a former governor of the state, has this to say on the subject: "The phrase 'steal our resources' is quite prejudicial. A private company can begin a hydroelectric project only after obtaining a license from the federal power commission. It takes the risk of construction, raises and invests the required capital, distributes energy in compliance with law and regulation. It is subject to state regulation. Its earning power is definitely limited. It is required to amortize its plant investment in a federally licensed dam over a period not to exceed 50 years. Then the plant is subject to recapture, as at all times it is subject to government condemnation. It seems quite demagogic, therefore, to brand private utilities as 'thieves' for developing a hitherto unused resource, when they are limited in earnings to a fair return based strictly on their prudent capital investment."

That is a sober and factual statement. However, as said before, we will continue to hear ad infinitum, the socialists' catch words and phrases. And here another common Latin term applies—ad nauseum.

Know What You're Voting For

Town Journal has a high regard for the intelligence of the American electorate. The magazine says editorially: "We believe that plenty of politicians bark up the wrong trees when they appeal solely to the immediate self-interest of voters. The great majority of Americans have the common sense to know that 'government money' all comes from somebody in taxes. They know, even though they may not think about it every day, that individual liberty is too precious to be traded for temporary federal favors."

Then Town Journal lists some of the great issues that face the nation today: "Is the federal power to be enriched further with less remaining to state and local governments? Are we following the right policies for assuring peace? What course of action will best improve agriculture's prosperity? How can the cause of 'civil rights' be advanced without aggravating racial tensions? Can government do more to harmonize the common interests of agriculture, labor, industry and consumers? Can spending be reduced, taxes lowered, and payments made on the national debt? Shall the federal government assume new responsibilities in education?"

It is the duty of candidates for high office to make their positions clear on such vital questions as these. It is the duty of the voters to carefully evaluate those positions before marking their ballots. This is not a partisan matter. There are men in both parties whose overriding goal is to maintain government which is the servant, not the master, of the people. And there are men in both parties who have succumbed to the lure of all-powerful government—the kind of government which must ultimately destroy human freedom.

Vote! But before you do that, know what you're voting for.

Today's electric ranges are modern in every way!

Today's trend, as you know, is to electricity—in the kitchen and in every phase of modern living.

And perhaps nothing mirrors this trend better than today's electric ranges. They not only look modern, they cook modern.

Electric surface units, for example, are self-cleaning and leave no smudge on pots or pans. Easy to control because you get exactly the heat you want every time. No guesswork.

You can do every kind of cooking automatically—completely automatically—on a modern electric range: boil, bake, roast, broil, even deep fat fry foods. Accurate controls mean you never have to worry about temperature fluctuation. (You'll notice your electric oven holds the heat nice and even, thanks to insulation on all 6 sides.)

No matter which electric range you choose, you can be sure it will be new—now and for many, many years to come. Learn how little it takes to own the one you want by visiting your electric appliance dealer now.

Big Saving—we pay part of your range installation cost. Need modern wiring to install your electric range? We share the cost with qualified home owners in 1, 2 and 3-family dwellings. This can cut your expense by about half.

And you get more than a money saving. The modern wiring that goes with your installation helps improve your TV picture, brightens lights, makes everything electrical work better. You can also install a 240-volt electric dryer, water heater or air conditioner quickly and cheaply. The Share-the-Cost Plan is available on terms up to 2 years.

Milk Price Increases For Local Dairymen; Tops Last Year Rate

Chicago — Dairy farmers in the Chicago Market will receive 13 cents a hundred pounds more for milk delivered in August than in July, according to Harry L. Edwards, director of sales for Pure Milk Association.

The Milk Market administrator announced an August blend price of $3.85 a hundred for milk testing 3.5 per cent butterfat and delivered to plants in the 70-mile zone.

A blend price of $3.85 is eight cents more than Chicago dairy farmers received for milk in August, 1955. This figure about 8 1/4 cents per quart to the farmer.

Edwards said August was the 16th consecutive month in which the price paid to farmers for their milk was above the corresponding month of the previous year.

The Milk Market administrator has predicted a blend price, at the 70-mile zone, of $3.87 for September.

A self-taught sculptor named Korezak has spent nine years and $180,000 of his own money working in the Black Hills of South Dakota on a mountain-size statue of Crazy Horse, the Sioux Indian chief who defeated General Custer. If and when completed years hence, Reader's Digest reports it will be 563 feet high, 82 feet taller than the pyramid of Gizeh and 5 feet higher than the Washington Monument.

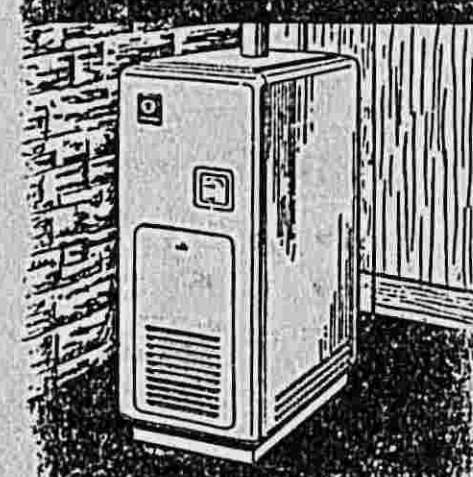

YOUR SENSE OF HUMOR
REVEALS MUCH ABOUT YOU

What Pat told Mike and Mike's reaction to it has long been considered uproarious, but not particularly significant. Now, John E. Gibson, in the October Reader's Digest, reveals science finds considerable importance in the way you react to jokes.

Studies at Yale University indicate that a well-developed sense of humor goes hand-in-hand with a well-balanced personality. On the other hand, the man who seldom sees anything amusing in jokes is likely to be maladjusted. He may actually be emotionally ill.

A keen sense of humor may mean that you are smarter than your neighbor, though you may laugh only moderately. A man who habitually laughs loudest and longest may not possess an acute sense of humor at all. He often doesn't get the point, and laughs to cover it up.

Puns? They're all right in moderation, we're all addicted to them.

But watch out. Recent University of Michigan studies indicate the excessive punster may be suffering from strong personality conflicts.

The article, condensed from the Journal of Lifetime Living, reveals an unsuspected cache of psychological treasure in the innocent joke. It quotes one leading authority: "Show me how a man reacts to humor and I'll tell you how he reacts to life."

Favorite jokes which disparage women, or which boast of or exaggerate romantic conquests, were found by the late Dr. A. A. Brill, famed psychoanalyst, to indicate fear of the opposite sex, or apprehensions regarding masculine adequacy.

Another psychoanalyst, Dr. Martin Grotjahn of the University of Southern California, has found that persons who can't remember jokes can't remember their dreams either; the same subconscious censoring mechanism affects both.

In psychological tests at Purdue University, persons who rated high in sense of humor tests also tended to make high intelligence-test scores. Other university studies have likewise shown that it is not the most serious and sober-minded students who average the best grades. The highest scholastic standings are more likely to be achieved by those with a well-developed sense of humor.

The great $99,800,000 bridge under construction across the Mackinac Straits in Michigan, Reader's Digest reports, will set two records. It will be the world's costliest bridge and, from anchorage to anchorage, the world's longest suspension bridge. It will be opened in 1957.

Sequoits Bid Farewell...

329 yards rushing and 20 yards passing for a total of 349 yards, while Antioch made but 103 yards on the ground and 117 yards through the air for a total of 220 yards. Glenbrook had 14 first downs and Antioch five.

Coach Kessenich said the Sequoits did not show as much ability as they did last year, and that had there been more teamwork and less individual effort on the part of his squad the score would have been different. Teamwork was stressed in practice this week for the game with the Bears Saturday.

In the preliminary the Antioch Frosh-Soph team tied the Glenbrook underclassmen 13 to 13. A return of a kickoff for a touchdown by Dick Behrens, quarterback and a sleeper play in which Vince Nauseda half-back carried the ball accounted for the Antioch scores.

The freshmen drew a 6-6 tie with Grayslake freshmen Monday evening.

if it should start flowing to the county government.

"It will be most helpful to the Civic League in determining its stand on the abolishment of the Township Collectors and to the citizens of Lake County if the County Board of Supervisors would give specific answers to questions such as these:

1. How much of the $500,000 will be used for meeting county government deficits?

2. What additional services or spending plans does the county government have for the $500,000 after the deficits are erased? (Here we have in mind a bill of particulars as to how much each proposed service will cost.)

3. Does the county government plan to reduce its present corporate tax levy to compensate for the new revenue it will receive from collecting all taxes?

"Without answers to these questions it would seem that blank check taxation is again raising its ugly head in Lake County.

"The League recognizes that present county revenue is not adequate to meet the needs of rapidly growing county. For this reason we wholeheartedly supported the last referendum to increase the county's corporate tax rate. But an additional $500,000 per year increase in county revenue goes far beyond any annual county deficit. Those who pay the bills should know how the new revenue will be used."

Training in First Aid Offered by Red Cross To Antioch Residents

At least one person in every home should be trained in first aid, according to Mrs. Grayce Bryson, manager of the Lake County Chapter of the American Red Cross. Classes will be offered in the various townships in Lake County in standard first aid, advanced first aid, and water safety instructor training. Anyone who wants to enroll in any one of the courses, according to his qualifications, is asked to telephone immediately the chapter, ON 2-4044, in order to register.

A class usually holds a two-hour meeting once a week, but length of time and time of day are scheduled to fit convenience of each class. The schedule has not been set up, according to Mrs. Bryson, until need is determined. If a minimum group of 12 persons or more, not to exceed 35 persons, wishes to select a classroom in a convenient location, the group may request a first aid instructor.

No Service Charge

There is no charge for Red Cross services. Each member will need a textbook, 60 cents; a triangular bandage, 25 cents; and a civil defense supplement, 10 cents. These will be delivered to the classroom.

The standard first aid course is 18 hours in length and open to anyone 16 years and older. Basic first aid training applicable to everyday accidents or injuries is offered. The course includes general directions of "do's and don'ts"; practice for procedures examining victims; care and prevention of shock, stoppage of breathing, arterial bleeding, internal poisoning; care for burns, handling of fractures and methods of transportation.

The advanced first aid course requires a minimum of 12 hours of instruction. The candidate must hold a current standard first aid certificate. The course is designed primarily for those persons who have an opportunity to give first aid in their occupations.

Classroom Factors

A group asking for its own first aid course should consider these factors, according to Mrs. Bryson: Comfortable room, which is ventilated, well lighted, has sufficient chairs, blackboard, work space. A church school room or club classroom is usually suitable, she said.

Those who complete the work satisfactorily will receive either the Red Cross standard or advanced first aid certificates. The Red Cross water safety instructor course is open to those who have current senior life saving certificates and are at least 18 year old.

THIS IS WHERE TOMORROW STARTS

A new "inner car" gives you a NEW KIND of FORD
for 1957! Coming October 3rd.

On Wednesday, October 3rd, Ford Dealers throughout the United States will unveil a new kind of automobile!

Cars are involved in every American's life. News of a new kind of car is the biggest kind of news to millions of Americans.

The Big New Kind of Ford is that kind of news...
a car totally new in design from crest to trunk lock.

This completely new automotive package will sell at the traditionally low Ford prices.

This makes possible a new high standard of such honest-to-goodness value that it actually increases the purchasing power of your automobile dollar.

When you see it, other cars will look out of date, because...

This is Where Tomorrow Starts... with a Big New Kind of Ford!

The New Kind of Ford is the fullest, most eloquent expression of Ford's special personality—the youthful grace, the whip-lash action—and the reputation for durability known wherever there's a road.

To all this we have added true elegance —a kind of elegance never before seen in the low-price field. To make a car truly elegant, you must start deep-down inside.

The New Inner Ford

The Inner Ford—the car you cannot see—is a very remarkable structure. Its frame is actually a cradle. Side members extend almost the full body width; they serve not only as supporting members but as concealed side bumpers of immense strength.

The New Ford Body

The new Ford body is a triumph of engineering in steel. The doors close with the solid finality of a bank vault. Even the door-lock button has been moved up front—easier for you to reach, but out of the children's reach.

All these features were engineered to give you a solid new kind of comfort.

The New Ford Ride

The New Kind of Ford sits six people as no other low-priced car has ever sat them

—six elbows wide in each seat; with deep space around each one of six knees. And above all that space, there's hat room to spare for all six passengers.

The 1957 Ford rides low, solid, with a firm, deep road-holding feel. Yet it's a light-hearted, flight-hearted ride—this car is responsive, nimble, agile, with a proud easy movement.

The New Ford Choice

Ford offers not only one, but two sizes of cars... each on its own extended wheelbase... each with its own body shell...
each with its own styling.

First, the two Fairlane Series on a 118-inch wheelbase. The Fairlane 500's come in 5 body types, a four-door sedan, a two-door sedan, a two- and four-door Victoria with no center pillars, and a convertible coupe. The same body types (except for the convertible) are available in the Fairlane Series.

Second, two Custom Series mounted on the 116-inch wheelbase chassis. In the Custom 300 Series, a four-door and a two-door sedan are distinguished from the Custom models by more luxurious interiors and elaborate trim. The Custom Series also includes a Business Sedan.

Beyond all these, you also have your choice of five Station Wagons—the famous glamour cruisers that are the champions in this field!

The New Ford Look

That low, low cradle-span frame means a low, low car. The Fairlane 500 is only four feet eight inches from road to roof! The Custom is just over four feet nine inches!

The new Ford is not only low—but long.
Ford gives you more than 17 feet of elegant length in the Fairlane Series, a shade less in the Custom. It's a nice kind of fun just to look at it. It's high-priced in every way except price.

The New Ford Performance

You can have up to 245 wonderful Thunderbird horsepower in any Ford model.
There's a moderate—and really moderate
—extra charge for this engine of 312 cubic inches with its 4-barrel carburetor.

For "Six" lovers, we've got the 144-hp Mileage Maker Six. Whether you choose
Six or V-8, the going is great!

Here is where your own tomorrow starts

It starts at your Ford Dealer's showroom!
The cars will be there on Wednesday,
October 3.

These are the best Fords of our lives.
They are the first symbols out of Detroit of the new automotive age that is beginning for you.

This is where tomorrow starts—at your Ford Dealer's.

This is when your tomorrow starts—
October 3rd.

Come in and see us for the Big New Kind of Ford!

Eye Diseases Often Detected For Several Years

NEW YORK—Strabismus or squint—the technical terms for cross-eyed and wall-eyed conditions resulting from lack of coordination between the eye muscles—don't usually make sudden appearances, according to the Better Vision Institute. Occasionally it is present from the day of birth, but it's generally apt to sneak up on a child so gradually that it goes unnoticed for a while.

During the early stages, in many cases, the youngster's eyes are only out of line when looking down to read or do other near-point tasks. They may be perfectly straight when looking up and at distant objects. This creates a dangerous situation, since parents are not likely to observe the way the child's eyes function when his head is bent over a book. But measures should be taken promptly to correct the condition, or it will develop to the point where the eyes are constantly crossed. And the turning eye may be suppressed until it loses its vision, through disuse.

As a rule, cross-eye begins before the age of five, and wall-eye after that age. Either condition requires the help of a competent vision specialist as soon as it is detected. He will probably advise occlusion, corrective glasses, visual exercises, an operation, or a combination of these.

Book Position Affects Reading

CHICAGO—The position in which a book or paper is held is a significant factor in reading efficiency. Recent tests have proved that the angle of the printed text has considerable effect upon both speed of reading and visibility of words.

A group of 300 university sophomores acted as subjects, from 31 to 75 participating in each of the different tests. A head rest kept their eyes at a distance of 17 inches from the reading copy, and a special reading stand held the copy in various positions, from the vertical to a slope of 30 degrees below the horizontal. Some of the text was in 10-point type, and some in eight-point.

Both sides of type were read most quickly over five-minute periods when the copy was held at a slant of 45 degrees from the vertical (that is, perpendicular to the reader's line of vision). The 10-point type was read 5.7 per cent more slowly when lying flat on the table, 8.8 per cent more slowly when slanted 10 degrees below the horizontal and 17.1 per cent more slowly when slanted 30 degrees below the horizontal. The eight-point type was read 8.7 per cent more slowly (than at 45 degrees) when lying flat on the table, 7.6 per cent more slowly when at -10 degrees, and 14.8 per cent more slowly at -30 degrees.

3-Horned Chameleon Fantastic Animal

WASHINGTON—One of earth's most fantastic animals is the three-horned chameleon of East Africa, recently added to the reptile collections of the Smithsonian Institution.

It is sometimes described as a replica, in miniature, of the ancient monster dinosaur Triceratops, which has been extinct for about 75,000,000 years. The two, of course, are in no direct way related.

The three-horned chameleon grows to a length exceeding twelve inches. The curious horns, an inch to an inch and a half long, protrude from the nose and between the eyes of the males. Females are hornless.

These chameleons are extremely pugnacious and sometimes use their horns in fights to the finish. At times the contests develop into tedious pushing matches, with the horns interlocked. At other times, a really vigorous fighter will dispose of a weaker adversary in a few minutes.

Fatty Foods Linked To Heart Disorders

PINECREST, N.C.—Your taste for fatty foods may have been burned to a crisp by Dr. Harvey Estes, associate in medicine at Duke University Medical School, who told a medical meeting that coronary heart disease and other atherosclerotic diseases are associated with too much fat in the diet.

"In view of the high incidence of coronary heart disease in this country, there is a serious question as to whether a permanent reduction in the level of dietary fat should be advised for the population as a whole," he said.

Magic Radio

CHICAGO—A sun-powered portable radio developed by a Chicago concern is said to operate satisfactorily, even on overcast days. The transistorized unit converts sunlight or artificial light into electricity with a small attachment made of 32 silicone cells. At night the unit works on flashlight batteries.

Illinois Tops in Corn Production

All former records are expected to be shattered by this season's Illinois corn crop. The indicated yield of 587,000,000 bushels will be 23,000,000 larger than the previous record crop of 1948, according to the September crop report of the state and federal departments of agriculture.

The 66 bushels per acre yield looked for this year will be 13 bushels above the ten-year average, and five bushels more than was harvested in 1948.

For the second year in succession Illinois will be the nation's top corn state, and will have about a sixth more corn than its closest rival—Iowa, where drought hurt corn badly in some areas.

Seventy per cent of the big Illinois corn crop is now mature enough to be out of the way of frost damage, and practically all of it is beyond or in the dent stage. Farmers are feeding new corn to livestock, but not much corn is expected to be cribbed before the first of October.

Illinois has no serious rival for top place among state in growing soybeans. This year's yield is forecast at 18,000,000 bushels, about two and one-third times as large as is predicted for Minnesota, this season's second-ranking soybean producer. Last year Illinois had 98,325,000 bushels of soybeans; the ten-year average production is 83,096,000 bushels.

Health Talk

"My child will just not eat the right food." This is a common complaint, but how do you as a parent measure as a pattern for your child's eating habits? When your youngster is very young, you supervise the daily menu. But while you are providing the basic needs, you are forgetting that Junior is watching you every move. And if your food habits are bad, don't criticize your child, the Educational Committee of the Illinois State Medical Society observes in Health Talk.

The young mother, meticulous and thorough in supervising the food supply of her baby directed by her physician, will forget that the same principles apply to herself. For breakfast, the baby has fruit, cereal, milk, egg, bacon and supplementary vitamins and minerals. But mother has toast and coffee. And dad oversleeps, so a cup of coffee, gulped hastily, must sustain him, at least until the ten o'clock "coffee break." And then another cup of coffee, and possibly a sweet roll.

Meanwhile Junior is growing up, physically and psychologically. He is beginning to observe people and things about him, particularly his parents. And when he arrives at the age of reason—that wonderful age when curiosity is satisfied only by replies to the myriad of questions—how can you answer his need by saying "you must eat this." He knows you don't. And tells you so.

Your job as a parent holds many responsibilities, one of which is example. You must be a model of exemplary conduct. And this includes good eating habits.

First of all, plan your meals so they are adequate in balance and attractiveness. And plan too that your meals are enjoyed leisurely in family happiness.

Vitamins and minerals are essential to many of the complex chemical activities necessary to proper function of the human body. Carbohydrates and fats provide energy for the body and are necessary to the diet.

While meat is the chief protein food, there are many other sources of both animal and vegetable protein which are greatly neglected, such as milk, eggs and vegetables.

The body needs an adequate and balanced intake of the proper foods. Even during sleep, the body continues to use up energy, though the pace of utilization is slowed.

Since the morning meal is the one between the longest interval of time, it is wise to eat a good breakfast. Luncheon does not have to be heavy, but it should include body-building elements. A salad, a bowl of soup and a glass of milk constitute a good mid-day meal. And dinner should be adequate in proteins, and shy on starches.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Merville of Zion and Mrs. Georgia Scoville and Mrs. Grace Turnock of Kenosha were Tuesday, September 18th dinner guests at the H. A. Tillotson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Strahan have a new grand daughter, "Susan Kathleen," born to Mr. and Mrs. John Streicher of Waukegan on Friday, Sept. 21, at Cicory Memorial hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stoneberg and son Dick, and their daughter ner should be adequate in proteins, and shy on starches.

So, Mr. and Mrs. Parent, check your eating habits. Remember that your child looks to you as a model. Be a good one. His early years are the habit-forming ones, and the good habits will carry him on to a productive and healthy life.

Enjoy your child. Plan your daily food intake wisely, so that you too can assimilate the essential body-building fuel. Your child can then follow the same pattern. He will be healthier and certainly a greater joy to you.

Ceresota
REPORTER

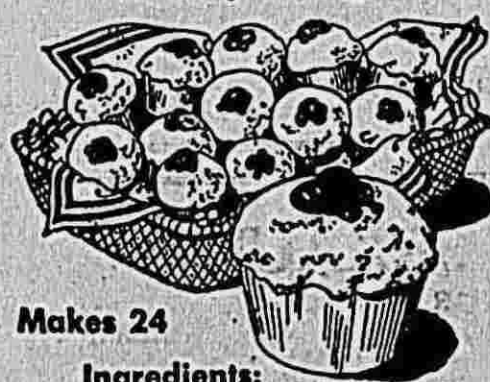

Here's a new twist: Nutmeg—long familiar as a topping for whipped cream, eggnog, and custards—can add a refreshing touch to spinach and cauliflower. It's a lot of fun, too, to use a colorful, inexpensive nutmeg grater in either the kitchen or the dining room.

Dad talks a lot about his workshop these days—but Mom's been mistress of her kitchen "do-it-yourself" art for generations. And she knows that home baking tastes ever so much better when she starts with the basic ingredients.

And there's nothing more basic than Ceresota flour. The very smartest "kitchen craftswomen" recognize the "extra" in Ceresota that comes from natural processing until the flour turns its own SNOWY WHITE—WITHOUT BLEACHING. Ceresota is prepared the old-fashioned, natural way and that means fuller flavor, better texture and finer appearance in your cakes and baked goods every time.

Muffins are always a favorite—and here's a recipe that will really thrill the kids—both young and old. These "Red Jelly Delights" will make your muffins the pride of the neighborhood.

Red Jelly Delights

Makes 24

Ingredients:

2 tablespoons shortening
1/2 cup milk
1 small yeast cake (or one package dry active yeast)
2 tablespoons sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1 egg—beaten
2 cups sifted Ceresota unbleached flour
Red jelly or preserves

Directions: Scald milk; add shortening, sugar, and salt, cool to lukewarm. Add yeast and dissolve. Blend in egg and flour and mix until smooth. Fill small greased muffin tins half full. Cover and let rise in warm place about 1 hour or until light. Make a depression in each muffin and fill with a teaspoon of red jelly. Bake at 350° for 25 minutes.

Barns at Mill Creek Farm Go Up in Flames

Antioch firemen are shown fighting the fire at the Mill Creek farm in which three barns and a milk house were destroyed Saturday evening. The hay and horse barns on the far side already were destroyed and the flames were ready to burst through the large barn to the left when the firemen arrived. Intense heat kept them back as they fought unsuccessfully to save the small milk house in the foreground. The tool shed behind the fire truck at the left was saved along with other smaller buildings. Record Will Be Kept on High School Students Who Take Driver Training to Ascertain Results

Springfield, Ill. — Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter today announced that his office has instigated a system of record keeping aimed at determining whether high school students enrolled in school driver training programs become better drivers than those who do not receive this training.

To accomplish this, Secretary Carpenter's Drivers License Department will put a "tag" on students enrolled in driver training programs. With this system it will now be possible for the first time to determine accurately just how much better such students are than non-student drivers.

"This is another example," Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter said, "of the vast development of the driver control program growing out of the forward looking Illinois Driver License Law."

Records of all high school students can be separated and analyzed through automatic punch card equipment to compare traffic law violations and accidents with those drivers who did not train in schools. The new system gets under way with the beginning of the fall school term.

The purpose of the new system is to discover the value of the high school training program in its attempt to produce safer and better drivers. As no records were previously available it has been impossible for interested agencies to determine the value of the program.

High school instructors, as well as Superintendent of Public Instruction Vernon L. Nickell, believe that considerable impetus could be given to driver training in the schools if it can be established that trainees develop into safer and better drivers than those who do not have the benefit of the training.

There is also the belief that more schools would join the "Behind the Wheel" instruction if real value can be shown. In addition, insurance companies and motor clubs would be more inclined to give financial and other support to the program if favorable results can be determined. Also, lower insurance rates for graduates of the program could be justified if driving records after graduation reveal the program has a definite value in placing safer and better drivers on the highways.

Ever since a sightless passenger told him of the publication sixteen years ago, Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, head of Eastern Air Lines, has provided a copy of Reader's Digest in Braille for every blind person boarding one of the company's planes.
